

This is just another case of Special Interests buying the members of Congress--
-nothing more, nothing less.

There are a lot of things that need fixing in our country but cowering to special interests, especially the miserable commercial radio interest, is not one of them.

I bought XM radio because I got so frustrated with listening to commercials on the radio stations that I rarely ever turned the radio on, whether it was at home or in one of my vehicles. Now I enjoy the music, news, and some comedy that is available on XM Radio without commercials.

The fact that XM Radio is now broadcasting weather and traffic information for something like 21 major US cities has absolutely no affect on me but I sure do support their right to do so.

William F. Tapp
15 Hinsons Ford Road
Amissville, Virginia 20106